We understand that the directors of the Erie Railroad Company have to-day made provision for retiring the whole floating debt of the Company, and that they have voted also to instruct the Trustees under the contract not to pay out any money from net earnings upon the Long-Dock property. These votes remove one of the leading objections that have been urged by early bondholders against the proposed plan of reorganization. By the end of the week, this Company will be without a floating debt, with the interest on the first and second mortgages at an amount provided for, and with the opening of the Long-Dock Tunnel also provided for by means of the Long-Dock Company. The railway market is about as reported yesterday. There has been rather more demand on call, but the draft is abundant. The inquiries have doubtless been more active in consequence of the necessity of providing for payment of two days. The Aaa took delivery to-day.

W. T. Coleman & Co.'s circular of Oct. 27 has the following in regard to the San Francisco Money market:

"There is no change to note in the rates of interest, nor any essential alteration in the rates of discount or premium for accommodations at present. Most of the capital is now in the hands of the English firms, and the inquiry is limited to the English firms."

The market has been unusually large for the season, for which there is no satisfactory account, as this is a singularly unusual feature in the money market for California."

There were no transactions since our last. A few were received from the Catalans, but as there is an indisposition to ship treasure by the next vessel sailing for China, operations have been deferred until the arrival of the next vessel, and we expect to receive a few more."

At the commencement of business, Oct. 25, the amount of money in the State Treasury, credited to the various Funds, was $45,271."

The freight business of the second week was larger than during any week since the road was opened.

The third week, thus far, shows a failing off, as compared with the second, but will come up fully to the corresponding week of last year.
